ENGINEER McLEAN

FALLS DOWN DEEP PIT

Having lost his footing and fallen headlong from a plank to the bottom of a twenty-five-foot pit at the tunnel excavations on First Street southeast, John P. McLean, employed on the work as a stationary engineer, was found last night half an hour after the accident and conveyed to Providence Hospital, with probably fatal injuries. McLean lives at 315 New Jersey Avenue southwest.

McLean was on his way to his engine, and in crossing the plank bridging the pit, made a misstep and fell. No one was near at the time, but it is believed that McLean struck on his head. At the hospital it was discovered that McLean was suffering from a severe fracture of the skull. This morning he was still in an unconscious condition, and the attending physicians say that he has little or no chance for recovery. McLean came over from Pittsburgh several months ago. In his pocket the injured man carried a card reading: "In case of accident, notify J. P. McLean, Lodge No. 1048, I. O. O. F., Hazelwood, Pittsburgh, Pa."

SHOT IN QUARREL

WITH FELLOW WORKMAN

Cranford Marshall, a negro, twenty-one years old, is at the Emergency Hospital, suffering from two bullet wounds in his back, inflicted by a fellow-laborer in a quarrel over a woman yesterday. He is in an unconscious condition and has but an even chance for recovery. Marshall was employed on the railroad at Quantico, Va., and lived at a camp near by. For some time there had been bad blood between him and another negro, whose name he refused to divulge, and last night the quarrel was resumed. After an interchange of blows Marshall's antagonist is said to have seized a rifle and shot him. The wounded man was hurriedly conveyed here. The surgeons were unsuccessful in locating the bullet and Marshall was so weakened by the loss of blood that they feared to repeat the probing.
